Welcome

November is a month to be thankful and I count my blessings to be a part of such an inspirational, community event. We are so glad you are here and delighted to share amazing art with you. This is our 3rd Celebration taking place in November, in addition to our yearly March event. I know that “The Third Time's the Charm” is true for all of us: Artists, Volunteers and Art Lovers alike!

We have garnered many awards this year including ArtFair Source Book's coveted #1 Fine Art & Fine Craft Art Event in the Nation 2023. These awards recognize not only our outstanding artists, but also our dedicated and committed volunteers, our hospitality, the beautiful location and the acumen of my wonderful team at Scope Events. Our collaborative and spirited community here in La Quinta creates an atmosphere unlike any art event I have experienced anywhere in the world.

Our acclaim and our uniqueness comes as no surprise to those of you who have traveled a great distance to be here every year. Thank you for making the journey once again. To our local art lovers, our deep appreciation for your ongoing engagement and enjoyment of our event. And, if you are a new visitor to the Celebration, I hope that it is truly an exceptional surprise. Experience Amazing Art!

Thank You for joining us.
I look forward to seeing you again at our Spring Event,

LYNN JAYE

DYNAMIC LANDSCAPES

Featured Poster Artist

Lynn Jaye grew up in London during the Swinging Sixties and was part of one of the greatest cultural changes of our time. She fell in love with painting at an early age and studied at several art schools, but the restless spirit of her generation inspired her to leave London and go traveling in search of her true self. She became a global nomad for seven years, making her way overland through Europe to India, Indonesia and beyond, filling journals with poems and sketches, and making batik paintings on cloth.

When Lynn arrived in California, she settled down in Santa Cruz and realized her dream of becoming a full-time artist. She continues to travel in between art shows and has developed a unique style, informed by her colorful, cultural experiences. She has also been enriched by the mesmerizing, illuminated and kinetic art found at Burning Man, a yearly festival in the Nevada desert.

Lynn paints Dynamic Landscapes in oil on canvas that are full of joyful energy, vibrant hues and movement. Her work has won many awards and is collected worldwide. Lynn calls this exuberant style Dynamism.

I consider myself a visual storyteller. I voice my stories by painting on canvases and by captured images using my camera. My inspiration comes from the world around me as well as the world inside my head. As a self-taught artist from a young age, I've experimented with a vast array of styles, techniques and materials to create original art. My preference and expertise, however, is in the usage of mixed media to construct, shape and color my images. My pieces often start with a carefully selected collage of newspaper scraps, magazine pages, vintage photographs and Xeroxed text. Then, using acrylic paint and original macro photography, I manipulate the lines, the shapes and the colors into the final image that was once conceived in my imagination.

Working out of their Coachella Valley studio residence in the California desert their work has a global reach. This remarkably creative husband and wife team have had their Art-in-Public-Places Sculpture exhibited and acquired by cities, individuals, corporations, non-profits & museums worldwide. Artists

New to the La Quinta Art Celebration

Participating in November 2023

We are excited to welcome 39 artists to their first La Quinta Art Celebration. Get a glimpse into these Artist's inspiration, process and work through the brief snapshots* provided below.

Joshua Alvarez
Booth # 803

Wood • Covina, CA

Wood artist Joshua Alvarez embarked on his artistic journey as a furniture maker, which eventually led him to combine his two passions: wood and music. Drawing inspiration from music, Joshua employs his artistic prowess to give his musical influences a tangible voice through the creation of abstract wood art.

Andres Arango

Booth: 117

Fiber • Miami, FL

Born in Colombia, Andres Arango has created unique genuine leather bags for over 20 years. His biggest inspiration is found in nature and each bag carries a leaf made of leather which has become his signature.

William Armstrong

Booth: 139

2-D & Digital • Santa Fe, NM

Will spends over twenty weeks per year on the road. Each line is created by hand using a series of pens, and Chinese lettering quills.

Will works on a collage of vintage maps, show posters and sheet music. Graphite, ink and acrylic might be used to finish the piece.

Ted Armulowicz

Booth: 206

Wood • Liberty Hill, TX

Based in Texas and having begun his woodworking journey over 30 years ago, Ted is fascinated and inspired by the incredible complexity in burls of wood as well as the way it feels and smells. Carving, sculpting, and inlays of other elements such as crude stone, fossils, metal, copper, mother of pearl, all make his pieces stand apart.

Stu Bailey

Booth: 260

Sculpture • Palm Desert, CA

Stu's current work is created in the multi-hued California alabaster found in the Borrego desert. His selection of stone, for its shape and color, matches the abstract style that dominates his work. Stu's work is complimented by polished steel and exotic wood bases.

David Baldwin

Booth: 732

Painting • Santa Rosa, CA

David's acrylic on canvas paintings are about personal honesty, letting go of the trickery of technique, and allowing ideas and feelings to come to the surface in the most distilled, pure manner. Simple shapes and colors create feelings and movement that evoke the complexities hidden inside the simple.

Lisa Baldwin

Booth: 123

Painting • West Hollywood, CA

Lisa creates art that weaves conceptual themes into a framework that celebrates the natural world and brings both meticulous formal expertise and backcountry plain air experience to her paintings. She edits her compositions to include only what is essential, like a visual haiku.

Ash Beheshti

Booth: 107

2-D & Digital • Los Angeles, CA

Ash's work focuses on the integration of mixed media. Pieces often start with a carefully selected collage of newspaper scraps, magazine pages, vintage photographs and Xeroxed text. Then, using acrylic paint and original macro photography, the lines, shapes and colors are manipulated into the final image.

Jason Blackburn

Booth: 805

Painting • Seattle, WA

Born and raised in the Pacific Northwest, Jason is a lifetime artist, who began painting full time in 2019. From his studio in Ballard, Washington, he paints large hyperrealistic paintings of birds, bugs, bones and whatever else he finds fascinating.

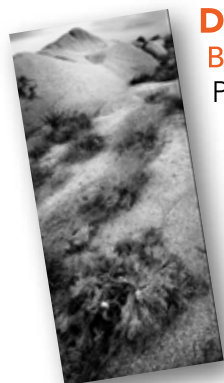

Delphine Bordas

Booth: 814

Photography • Palm Desert, CA

Delphine uses a photographic medium to embark on a new series of inverted color desert botanicals and aims to give space to the plants' perfect geometrical shapes. The art displays a sense of evasion, serenity & warm spirit.

Candiss & Roger Cole-Footitt

Booth: 240

Fiber • Sedona, AZ

Both coming from a legacy of European textile makers, Candiss and Roger create unique jackets, coats, dresses and tops. Since the two joined forces in 2004, the focus has been on color, pattern and adding that "wow" factor to the current collections.

Roger Disney

Booth: 605

Painting • Tulsa, OK

Roger's work captures the vitality and energy of modern and historic cities. With long shutter speeds and dusk lighting, he captures photos of cities from around the world and returns home to Tulsa to interpret them in the studio with the vibrancy and motion of his palette knife oils on canvas.

Bruce Dodd

Booth: 188

Sculpture • La Quinta, CA

Bruce Dodd's sculptures are the product of empathy and compassion for his subject matter and a strong commitment to design. His designs are shaped by the experiences and encounters he has had traveling the world as a natural history and scuba diving guide.

Elizabeth Dunlop

Booth: 728

Glass • Mesa, AZ

Elizabeth's methodology is largely improvisational and each piece is unique. The glass medium imposes its will as much as the artist.

Elizabeth combines metals, wood, patina products, watercolor and the Arizona sunshine to create the interesting textures and shapes.

Mary & Lou Ann Filapek

Booth: 614

Draw Pastel Print

• Albuquerque, NM

Mary and Lou Ann's work is inspired by the things that bring them joy; travel, nature, cosmic interconnections, and exploring the relationship between the inner and the outer. Their current work is inspired by architecture, geometry and texture and patterns in form and color.

Susan Hartenhoff Haygood

Booth: 706

Painting • Garretson, SD

Influenced by the wonderful South Dakota land, the artist uses oil on canvas painting animals and Western and Native images with a focus on horses, pets, and avian. Recent work pulls the image of the horse from the brushwork and drips off the background.

Itai Hazan

Booth: 133

Sculpture • Cathedral City, CA

Unique, hand-carved sculptures of natural stone quarried in the hills & mountains of Zimbabwe. Itai designs sculptures that remind of those raw rock faces seen in nature, and the lines and angles of modern architecture.

Erica Iman

Booth: 601

Painting • Kansas City, MO

Erika makes hand-built, one-of-a-kind vessels that are often reflective of forms or fragments found in nature. She enjoys the raw material properties of clay and minerals and is continuously experimenting with these materials and processes.

The forms are abstracted yet resemble the geological features of their origin, such as glacial ice or weathered rock.

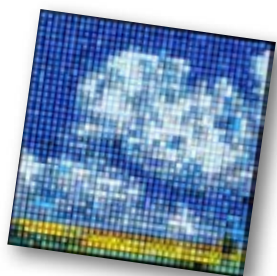

Erik Jensen

Booth: 608

3-D • West Valley City, UT

Erik brings old computer keyboards back to life by creating stunning art murals out of those keyboard keys. The art piece embraces the pixel concept that we are all too familiar with in this technological world. Placing these keys together gives a pixelated beauty from the front and a mesmerizing texture up close and on the side.

Sonja Jones

Booth: 259

Draw Pastel Print • Phoenix, AZ

Inspired by the nature and wildlife in the artist's Southwest Arizona home, Sonja works primarily in the medium of scratchboard. Scratchboard is a kaolin clay tablet, coated with black India ink. Sonja often adds colors through the use of colored inks and/or watercolor paints.

Keoni

Booth: 213

Wood • Colorado Springs, CO

Driven by a passion for Native Culture stories, legends and mythology, fine art carver, Keoni, re-imagines wood as woven and beaded basketry. Using sharpened steel, fire, inks and organic dyes, he creates story-driven artwork illusions entirely by-hand with Sugar Maple as his canvas.

Jay Kim

Booth: 811

3-D • Alpharetta, GA

Jay's style, combining patina with engraving on brass, is unique. As the artist explains "Engraving unveils an untouched golden color of brass hidden beneath the dramas of colors and patterns from patina. To me, it symbolizes the beauty of our true being we all share inside us."

Letitia Lee

Booth: 237

Painting • Bethesda, MD

Even as a young child growing up in Virginia, I had a serious passion for pencils. I loved to draw with them. Each new pencil was a new and fresh idea. As an adult, I create through my life experiences. Today, my "new pencils" are human beings, for they are my inspiration. I love connection. My passion is sharing.

Carlos Montanaro

Booth: 216

Jewelry • Indio, CA

Carlos uses vintage timepieces as a platform from which to create art. Using jewelry bench skills & traditional watch making techniques, timepieces & objects are engraved & restored. The pieces are turned into a new work of art showcasing their beauty in a new way.

Christine Adele Moore

Booth: 720

Painting • Bonita Springs, FL

Christine's art is comprised of at least three and up to 12 layers. These Layers of texture include water based media and various materials such as metal leaf, with layers of clear acrylic resin. This layering technique can have the appearance of active life that has paused for consideration and appreciation.

Lee Morrison*Booth: 102

Painting • Sherwood, OR

Lee uses a style that combines abstract and figurative elements to paint captivating fractal forest scenes. Lee's use of color and layering technique give her paintings distinct eye-catching fragmented effects.

Jason NelsonBooth: 221

Painting • Spring Valley, CA

Jason starts the painting process with only a handful of primary colors, eliminating black altogether and instead using deep blues and purples to characterize shadows. He finds starting with a simpler color palette and then mixing them to get his secondary colors as his preferred method for creating a fresh and unique color palette.

Jose Luis Nunez*Booth: 235

Painting • San Diego, CA

Jose paints an unlimited range of topics that reflect his broad interests in art and life with oils and acrylics because they allow him to use thick layers of paint and to leave traces of brush strokes.

Scott Palmer*Booth: 723

Sculpture • Mesa, AZ

Scott uses a unique combination of solid copper, impressionistic painting style, natural patinas and flame painting to form hand-crafted one of a kind works of art that apply his extensive experience in painting to the world of precious metals.

Russell & Merri Peters*Booth: 505

3-D • Valley Center, CA

Russell and Merri Peters are a talented husband and wife team.

Russell sculpts low fired pottery and Merri hand paints each piece using vibrant acrylic colors.

Ron Purvis*Booth: 243

Wood • Damascus, OR

Ron has been working with wood across many different techniques for 35 years, eventually discovering that woodturning allowed a greater degree of creativity and flexibility. It requires the artist to watch and react to the wood, which results in a unique piece derived from a collaboration with the material.

Bethany RobertBooth: 238

2-D & Digital • Lawndale, CA

Bethany is a mixed-media painter whose style is a mix of contemporary, urban and abstract. She loves working with striking color palettes and texture.

Lisa Robinson*Booth: 724

2-D & Digital • Seaside, OR

Lisa paints in watercolors and oils and believes that, "The people I meet through my artwork are as important to me as the artwork I make." Lisa enjoys collaborating with clients to create artwork that people are proud to hang on the walls of their home.

Michael SchuesslerBooth: 712Draw Pastel Paint
Littleton, CO

Michael uses very high-grade pastel pigments, gold, copper and silver leaf, and mica, applied to the canvas in a series of transparent layers with a special formulated acrylic-bonding agent. This medium was taught to Michael by well-known Denver Artist Nancy Hannum.

Sharon Spillar*Booth: 713

Painting • Kansas City, MO

Sharon uses color, shape, and form to express emotions, thoughts, and experiences. Not interested in creating realistic representations of the world, Sharon instead wants to create something that is purely personal and expressive.

Tony Tischer
Booth: 273
Jewelry • Salida, CO

Tony has been immersed in as many different mediums as possible from Ceramics and Sculpture to Painting and Pen and Ink before falling in love with forging and raising metal and using ancient techniques to make fine contemporary shapes. Now, Tony creates Anticlastic Jewelry making miraculous jewelry and shapes from hammers.

Lou Ann Townsend

Booth: 615
Painting • Albuquerque, NM

Lou Ann's work is acrylic paint and graphite on wood panel. Lou Ann creates paintings with a focus on color interplay and harmony, with discordant notes. Lou Ann sees each piece as existing within space and dimension beyond 2D.

Loretta Warner

Booth: 217
3-D • Rancho Mirage, CA

Loretta has worked for several years with oil, acrylic and burlap. She stitches large and small pieces of burlap to a linen backing to provide the right mix of texture and flow, definition and diffusion to allow her to highlight imperfection and gracefulness in her subjects.

Suzy Williamson

Booth: 120
Jewelry • Bend, OR

Suzy has been hand fabricating jewelry from silver, gold, copper and brass for 25 years. Making every piece by hand from metal sheet, wire and tubing, Suzy saws, shapes, and solders elements together with stones and pearls used typically as accents rather than the focus of each piece.
